

SPECIAL OFFER!

“WHAT DID YOU DO IN THE COLD WAR, DADDY?” or “CLOSE ENCOUNTERS OF THE KGB KIND.”

By Tom Sewell, MA
(now available)

An account of Tom and Jennifer’s life behind the Iron Curtain

Sir Rodric Braithwaite GCMG British Ambassador in Moscow, 1988-92, writes

“Tom Sewell paints a vivid picture of the grandeur and misery of dealing with the Soviet Union and its servants during the Cold War – the petty but dangerous attentions of the KGB, the poverty of the country, and the open generosity of the people when you were able to worm your way through the barriers with which the state surrounded them.”

"Mr Charles de Kunffy FEI Judge (C) writes from California

"Could not put it down; read it in record time! Bravo! Beautifully written, fast moving, fascinating.... I loved every bit of it"

ORDER FORM

Name

Address

.....

PostcodeCountry.....

UK £9.99 No. of copies required

Postage £ 3.50

I enclose a cheque for Payable to “Tom Sewell Consultancy a/c”

Please invoice me. Yes/No

Please return to Tom Sewell, Garden Cottage, East Whitley Lane GU5 0TE
(regret credit card not acceptable). Email tomsewell@ttrust.freeseve.co.uk

Tel. 01483 272445 or FAX today on 01483 268371 to order your own copy